ABOUT ME

Greetings! I'm Tanjil Ahmed, a seasoned software engineer boasting over six years of expertise in the tech arena as a Full-stack developer. My proficiency lies in Wordpress theme development, particularly with Woo-commerce and its associated plugins, as well as PHP frameworks like Laravel. Furthermore, my command over the MERN stack has led to the creation of numerous high-performing applications.

A hallmark of my utilities is their user-centric design combined with optimal performance. I place immense emphasis on a seamless UI, ensuring it interacts fluidly with users. My code isn't just clean – it's efficient and primed for peak performance. I'm adept at deploying applications across various platforms including AWS, Digital Ocean, Cpanel, and Heroku, among others.

Professionalism is at the core of my work ethos. I'm timely, dedicated to client contentment, and always ensure I meet stipulated deadlines without compromising on quality. To remain at the forefront of technological advances, I'm continually refining my skills and keeping abreast with the latest in the domain.
